Book 5

Book Group Discussion

The “keys of heaven” plant grows in rocky places where the soil is thin and other plants don’t find survival easy. Yet it thrives in its place. Who would you say is thriving in their place in this book?

Who is trying to move out of their place? Do you think it’s a wise move? If you were in that place, would you do the same?

Sarah and the other Amish people in Willow Creek are friendly with the Englisch, but they are aware that they cannot “have fellowship” with them. What do you think about this?

Do you like the character of Ginny Hochstetler? Are she and Henry right for one another?

Sarah tells Silas Lapp that she’s dedicated to her new calling as a healer and declines his courtship. Was this the right thing to do? Do you think she’ll regret it?

Sarah felt she was doing the right thing to encourage Linda Peachey to push for a home of her own. Do you think this blinded her to what was best? Do you think she was following God’s will?

Eric ran away to pursue his passion. Would you have taken steps this extreme if you felt strongly about something?

What do you think of Sarah and Henry encouraging Eric to stay in Willow Creek instead of returning him to his parents right away?

If you had been Eric, would you have chosen two weeks in an Amish home or two weeks in New York City?

What do you think Henry is coming to tell Sarah at the end of the book?
